

Choose well for your mental health and wellbeing – a guide for adults

It's important that we look after our mental health and wellbeing the same way we do with our physical health.

If you hurt yourself physically, there would be things you could do to make yourself feel better. Say you sprained your ankle – you can rest it and take weight off it. The same is true for your mental health. If you notice changes to your mental health and wellbeing, there are things you can do to improve how you feel.

The earlier you recognise changes to how you're feeling or behaving, and begin to take steps to improve things, the less likely these will get worse.

This guide has been created to help you to choose well to support your mental health and wellbeing. Carers, friends and families can also use this guide to look out for those close to them and direct them to the right support. It's a good idea to familiarise yourself with this so you know what to do in different situations.

Self care – things you can do to proactively look after your mental health and wellbeing

Mental health helpline – someone to listen and signpost you to help or support

Talking therapies – one-to-one or group therapies

GP practice – your GP practice can refer you to secondary mental health services or prescribe medication

Secondary mental health services – offer education and treatment on certain mental health illnesses

Crisis or emergencies – it's important you know what to do in a crisis or emergency situation

Crisis or emergency situations

How I might be feeling...

- Feeling like you may seriously harm or injure yourself or other people
- Feeling suicidal or like you want to die
- No longer feeling able to cope or be in control of your situation
- Extreme distress or extreme changes in behaviour
- Seriously harmed or injured yourself

Did you know?

Charities provide support for people in a mental health crisis:

Samaritans: Free to call, 24/7, 365 days a year. Call them on 116 123

SANeline: 4.30pm – 10.30pm every day of the year. Call them on 0300 304 7000.

What can I do?

If you or someone else has seriously harmed or injured yourself, always call 999 or go to your nearest A&E.

If you already get mental health support from a health or care organisation, please contact the team that provides you with treatment. You may have a care or safety plan already. This will help with your treatment and will tell you who to contact in a crisis.

You can also get support in a mental health crisis by:

- Calling NHS 111, a 24-hour helpline
- Booking an emergency appointment with your GP practice. Outside of normal surgery hours you can still phone your GP, but you will usually be directed to an out-of-hours service
- Contacting the 24-hour mental health helpline for anyone registered with a GP in Barnsley, Calderdale, Kirklees and Wakefield on 0800 183 0558.

In order to help you manage a crisis, or for further support with your mental health, your GP or other organisation involved in your care may refer you to Single Point of Access (SPA). In some areas you can also refer yourself:
